Station to Air Full Programs Starting Sept. 15

Full-time programs on the new Palm Springs Translator Television Station nearing completion in the Santa Rosa Mountains will begin Sept. 15, president Frank Bennett announced today.

Bennett told The Desert Sun progress on the new ultra-high frequency facility is "on schedule," and expected to be completed for the American, Columbia, and National Broadcasting system productions from San Diego by the mid-month.

4,000 Men Fight Wild Forest Fires

Northern Blazes Sweep Through 135,000 Acres

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—

An army of 4,000 men today appeared to be winning the battle against a rash of 165 forest fires which roared through California timber and grasslands during the week-end.

The fires had charred more than 135,000 acres and taken one life, according to a spokesman for the California Division of Forestry.

A fire fighting pilot, Waldo J. Hackman, 43, Red Bluff, Calif., died when his single engine bomber crashed on a wooded ridge near Forestown in Butte County.

The spokesman said the siege of blazes—for the suddenness with which they struck—was the worst ever experienced in California, but he said the situation today was "noticeably better."

Driven by gale winds of 40 miles per hour, the fires forced hundreds of vacationers and residents of small California towns to be evacuated.

In addition to Hackman's death, 10 firefighters were removed from the lines with severe burns or injuries and forestry officer Jack Kessler collapsed and was taken to a hospital with a possible heart attack.

In Amador County, in the mother lode area near Sutterville, about 30 buildings were lost when fire raged through the tiny communities of Amador City, Sutter Creek and New Chicago.

The fire had charred 23,000 acres, but was expected to be contained today.

Believed Man-caused

The weekend's most spectacular fire was believed to have been man-caused.

It struck the Gurneville resort area, where 10,000 Californians were vacationing about 100 miles north of San Francisco.

It was contained late Sunday, but not before it burned through some of California's prime redwood timber, forced hundreds of vacationers to flee, and destroyed many buildings.

The third of four major week-end blazes started Saturday when fire destroyed a sawmill at Kelsey, a small community of about 100.

Residents of Kelsey and Coloma, on the American River were alerted for removal. The fire burned to the edge of the river at Coloma Saturday night and jumped the river Sunday.

About 1,000 men fought to control the blaze and keep the flames away from historic Coloma, where gold was discovered in California. The fire was finally contained Sunday.

A grass fire in Solano County north of San Francisco destroyed the most acres, 80,000, before being completely controlled.

Snowstorm Hits Highways in Colorado Area

DENVER (UPI)—A snowstorm that caused worry, work and discomfort for highway crews, travelers, rescue parties and would-be holiday vacationers in Colorado Sunday lingered on today.

The storm hit Colorado late Saturday, and by early Sunday was giving Colorado its earliest snowfall on record. As much as 18 inches was piled up at Conifer, 33 miles southwest of Denver.

Today, snow still was falling in the Colorado Rockies but the snow that had whitened lower elevations of the state Sunday had changed to rain.

Federal Communications Commission approval for the project, designed to provide uninterrupted service, has been given.

The FCC approval came in a telegram authorizing moving of the three Translator Television stations to the 7,200 foot-level in the Santa Rosa mountains.

The enlarged facility will pick-up and rebroadcast to Palm Springs, North Palm Springs and Desert Hot Springs all programs of the three network stations in San Diego. Network stations are ABC, channel 6; NBC, channel 10, and CBS, channel 8.

The Santa Rosa signals are strong and will be "snow-free," Bennett said. He emphasized that many sports events, blacked out in Los Angeles, will be broadcast over the San Diego stations.

The Palm Springs Hotel and Apartment Association and PS Translator Television are now conducting a drive to obtain five year pledges for $1 a month financial support of the service. About 1,200 pledges have been received, but 3,000 to 4,000 are needed to make the installation permanent, Bennett said.

Bennett reiterated that first year pledge payments will be asked only after the minimum pledges required are made. If the drive for the pledged supporters fails, "Translator Television will have to sell out its three station system and go off the air for good," Bennett said. He pointed out that FCC approval would be "hard, if not impossible, to get after a demonstration that the communities just won't support the service."

Bennett said the $1 monthly fee would mean a savings of $72 a year to individual set users in the area. The cable charge is $7 monthly, he explained, for a total of $84 a year, compared to the $12 annual translator fee.

"Resort guests demand and expect TV, and many reservations are lost if the hotel or apartments do not have rooms with TV available," Bennett said. He added that "low-cost, good television is also of vital importance to all real estate subdividers, and especially those selling retirement homes and apartments. Many employed persons also find it difficult to pay $84 a year for television, when they could get it for $12," he concluded.

Rocket Plane Seeks Record

EDWARDS AFB, (UPI)—Two X15 rocket plane flights—one of them after a speed record—may be squeezed into this holiday-shortened week, space agency officials indicated today.

The record flight, aimed at 3,700 miles an hour with Joe Walker flying it, was postponed to this week because of technical troubles.

Residents of Kelsey and Coloma, on the American River were alerted for removal. The fire burned to the edge of the river at Coloma Saturday night and jumped the river Sunday.

About 1,000 men fought to control the blaze and keep the flames away from historic Coloma, where gold was discovered in California. The fire was finally contained Sunday.

U.S., BRITAIN ASK ATOM TEST BAN; EXPECT RUSS REFUSAL

Khrushchev Acceptance Is Unlikely

No Mention Made Of Atomic Tests To Soviet People

MOSCOW (UPI)—Diplomatic observers said today it was unlikely that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev would accept Western proposals for banning nuclear tests in the atmosphere.

As early today, there was no public report in Moscow of the joint message to Khrushchev from President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

The Western appeal to lessen the dangers of radioactivity followed a White House claim last week that the Soviet Union had conducted a nuclear test in Central Asia. There has been no mention of such a test here.

The Kennedy-Macmillan message was announced in the United States Sunday at a time when Moscow made public a Soviet rejection of Western claims to an "unrestricted right" to West Berlin air corridors. The Soviets called the claims unrealistic and legally nonexistent.

Observers based their opinion as to why Khrushchev would not go along with the Kennedy-Macmillan proposals on the fact that the Soviet Union is resuming nuclear tests on the ground of "military necessity," presumably in accordance with advance planning.

The Soviets, the observer said, are believed already committed to a program of testing a whole series of weapons probably timed in accordance with weather conditions and planned naval and rocketry maneuvers.

In addition, they said that Russia probably would not look favorably on the Western plea because Khrushchev links the entire question of banning nuclear tests with total, general disarmament.

The Soviets have long taken the position that danger to world peace will remain as long as there are existing stockpiles of nuclear and conventional weapons.

Teachers Sessions Start; Record Enrollments Seen

Palm Springs Unified School District teachers start preliminary sessions Tuesday, for the record enrollment opening set next Wednesday for an estimated 3,800 pupils in the districts schools.

The record opening day enrollment is expected to lead to an all-time peak here of 4,195 pupils and students in the district's seven elementary schools, one junior high school, and Palm Springs High School.

A staff of 167 certificated teachers will open the year, backed by the staff services of 17 administrative officers and headed by district superintendent Dr. Dwight E. Twist. Twist, aided by assistant superintendent and district business manager Jack Miles, heads the district's major business — a $3 million-plus educational system.

Major curriculum change this year is the offering of French and Spanish in the sixth and seventh grades.

"We stress basic education, but want to give as well-rounded an educational opportunity as is possible," curriculum chief Mrs. Mary Mitchell emphasized. She explained that the new language addition will permit Nellie N. Coffman Junior High School students to plan a six year language study course, or other students may elect a four year course in High School alone.

Continued will be the seventh period for Palm Springs High School. The seventh optional period launched last year in answer to both educator and student demands, permits students to do extra work in specialized fields of the student's choice and interest.

Top class size within the district schools for the coming year will be the first-graders, special services chief Paul Summit predicted. School principal tabulations indicate a peak first grade enrollment of 332 for the year. The enrollment of first graders, and the 331 expected at the kindergarten peak, may indicate a growth in permanent families within the district with school age and pre-school youngsters.

Approximately $1 million worth of new buildings, mostly at Palm Springs High School, and district renovations have been made this spring and summer for the new semester.

News In Brief

SARNIA, Ontario (UPI)—A 250-foot oil tanker exploded today at the Imperial Oil Co., Ltd., dock here, injuring six crewmen and touching off a spectacular blaze. Ambulances and fire-fighting equipment were rushed to the scene and the injured were taken to Sarnia General Hospital.

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI)—Vice President Joao Goulart and the armed forces ministers sought agreement today on the selection of a prime minister that would give Brazil a new government after 10 days of crisis.

The country's right-wing military leaders, who had opposed making leftist Goulart president, decided Sunday night to "guarantee" his installation as chief executive on Tuesday.

BERLIN (UPI)—East German Communist leaders today were reported pushing arrests of "anti-social elements" in new repressive measures behind the Berlin border barriers.

The reports followed renewed Soviet threats to the Berlin air corridors and East German reinforcement of the wall between East and West Berlin.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress took a final breather today before digging into the stack of legislation remaining between it and adjournment.

Heavy schedules will face both houses when they reconvene Tuesday following the long Labor Day weekend. Top items on the agenda are appropriations for President Kennedy's foreign aid program and a public works bill.

Prosperity Keys Labor Day Address by Goldberg

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Workers of a free nation were reminded today that millions of Americans celebrate Labor Day in great prosperity while Russians have to be content with the Kremlin's "distant promises" of abundance.

Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg said Soviet space spectacles could not mask shortages of food, housing and clothes.

In one of a series of Labor Day declarations focused on the international crisis, Goldberg said Sunday that the Soviet Union's industrial growth provided little satisfaction for the average Russian consumer.

Also alluding to the East-West conflict, AFL-CIO President George Meany expressed confidence that the United States could defeat Russia if the world crisis ever reached "an ultimate showdown."

Kennedy Hopeful Fallout Blasts Can Be Banned

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—President Kennedy holds firm hope that Russia will join in an immediate British-American-Soviet ban on fallout-producing nuclear tests in the atmosphere as a big first step toward world-wide outlawing of such blasts.

This was reported today by authoritative sources. They said the Chief Executive is convinced that France and other countries with present or future atomic capabilities would follow suit if Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev signs the three-power pact proposed Sunday by Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold A. Macmillan.

Kennedy's basic position was summed up by Acting Press Secretary Andrew T. Hatcher, who told newsmen:

"The President's views are that the matter of atmospheric testing is acute to all nations of the world, and should be acted on at once. As more and more nations achieve the ability for atmospheric testing, there is less and less of a chance that an agreement can be reached."

One big question, of course, was whether a multi-nation agreement ultimately would also extend to Communist China, which has been described as trying to develop its own nuclear weapons.

Kennedy, mixing serious business with the pleasure of a long Labor Day weekend with his family at their Cape Cod vacation home here, juggled alternatives for action when—or if—Khrushchev responds to Sunday's offer.

For the moment, administration officials were satisfied of a major propaganda victory in forcing Khrushchev to let the world know whether—in Kennedy's and Macmillan's words—he would "protect mankind" from deadly radioactive fallout.

First reports from the 24-nation meeting of uncommitted nations at Belgrade, Yugoslavia, were of general approval of the proposal among delegates. They had voiced shock and indignation at Russia's announcement last Wednesday of a test resumption.

Well-placed sources said Kennedy and Macmillan set a Sept. 9 deadline—just five days from now—for agreement on a ban at Geneva so that a pact could be on record before the United Nations General Assembly convenes Sept. 19.

Meany pledged full support of organized labor behind President Kennedy's stand against further Communist advances in Berlin or elsewhere. He branded Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's peace appeals as double talk aimed at subjecting more people to Communist terror.

Kennedy set the tone for the Labor Day speeches when he said last Tuesday the holiday was a symbol of the vital distinction between the economic and social progress of the American way and the tyranny of communism.

As did millions of his fellow countrymen, the President spent the holiday on a long weekend vacation. He was with his family at Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod.

The labor secretary and other ranking government, labor and management officials attended a special mass at the Shrine of the Sacred Heart in Washington.

Highway Toll Claims Five Each Hour

By United Press International Labor Day traffic, defying uncertain weather and official pleas to consider every driver a potential death partner, today sped toward a treacherous bumper-to-bumper climax.

Highway carnage mounted by one dead motorist or pedestrian about every 12 minutes on the final day of the 78-hour, three-day holiday weekend.

In a plea to keep the road toll below the Labor Day weekend high of 433 set a decade ago, safety officials noted Labor Day traffic would include not only weekend vacationers but also thousands of families motoring home from summer holidays in time for school.

The National Safety Council estimated 420 persons might die in traffic accidents during summer's final weekend fling. Highway deaths approached the estimate at about five an hour.

A United Press International tally at 5:30 a.m. EDT counted 284 victims in traffic since the weekend began at 6 p.m. (local time) Friday. At least 129 persons died from other accidental causes for an overall toll of 363.

The breakdown: Traffic 284, Drownings 44, Boatings 4, Planes 2, Miscellaneous 29, Total 363.

California traffic was deadliest, producing 23 fatalities. Other states with a highway toll in two figures were North Carolina, 17; Texas, 15; New Jersey and Pennsylvania, each 14; Illinois and Virginia, each 12; Michigan, 11, and New York and Ohio, each 10.

States entering the final day of the weekend without a recorded traffic death were: Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Hawaii, Idaho, Maine, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Wyoming.

40 Saved, Scores Missing As Excursion Boat Sinks

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI)—Rescuers worked through early morning darkness today to find out how many persons drowned when a Sunday excursion boat carrying from 200 to 500 persons sank in the Pacific Ocean harbor of Buenaventura.

Port authorities feared that not more than 40 persons were saved, which would put the loss of life in the hundreds, making it Colombia's worst maritime disaster.

At least 60 bodies had been recovered, officials said, but no exact figures were available as to the number of persons aboard.

The ship, El Vencedor, a coastal freighter, was carrying several prominent Colombian entertainers participating in a tourist festival that featured the excursion trip.

The vessel was returning to port from Bocana Beach to Buenaventura, a 30-minute trip, when it capsized and quickly sank, according to reports reaching here.

It went down in front of hundreds of horrified bathers.

A dense fog and heavy seas hampered immediate rescue operations.

Military and civilian authorities rushed all available boats from the Buenaventura area to the scene in a race with closing darkness.

The vessel had been on a one-day excursion arranged by officials of Colombia's Valle Department in the western part of the nation.

Hundreds of persons rushed to the Buenaventura waterfront area to witness the scene. Weeping relatives frantically sought news about who was saved and who was aboard.

Authorities said most of the persons aboard were from Cali, Buenaventura and other nearby cities.

Tension Builds As Strike Deadline Nears

By ROBERT IRVIN
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT (UPI) The United Auto Workers hoped to get a counter offer from General Motors today by dropping its profit sharing demand and starting preparations to call a strike of 310,000 GM workers if an agreement is reached in two days.

With tension building toward a 10 a. m. Wednesday "settle or strike" deadline, UAW President Walter P. Reuther and GM Vice President Louis G. Seaton scheduled a special holiday bargaining session. Reuther planned to leave briefly about noon for a Labor Day speech, then return later.

Reuther, who asked GM Saturday to follow American Motors and share profits with factory workers, withdrew the demand Sunday because GM "has stated its unwillingness to accept profit sharing."

Instead, he asked GM to match all the other benefits of the AMC agreement, paying for them in the "customary way" — from corporation funds rather than through a profit-sharing fund patterned after American Motors.

GM promised to study the union request. The firm also was expected to come up with a second offer of its own soon. The UAW rejected GM's first offer last month as "totally inadequate."

The union ended Sunday's meeting with GM by brandishing its strike club. "Unless we make a great deal more progress than we have to date, I don't see how we can avoid a strike," Reuther said.

The union said workers at 129 GM plants around the country held weekend meetings to get ready for a strike. They painted strike signs, set up picket schedules, cleaned up soup kitchens and handed out applications for strike benefits.

Goldberg Optimistic

While Reuther appeared pessimistic about chances of averting a strike, Labor Secretary Arthur Goldberg said Sunday he doesn't think there will be a walkout.

"I have great confidence in the industry and union," he said. "They know it's not in the national interest to have a strike. Therefore I expect them to meet their responsibilities. I don't believe there will be a strike."

To this, Reuther replied: "He's obviously not close to the bargaining table." Seaton answered simply, "I hope the secretary's right."

Settlement Seen in Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE (UPI) — Political observers looked to Belgrade today for further indications of Antoine Gizenga's desires for a reconciliation with the central government.

Many observers doubted that Gizenga's trip to the conference of unaligned nations with Central Premier Cyrille Adoula meant that the split between the two factions was completely healed.

They said Gizenga, leftist leader of the Stanleyville faction, may shed further light on his intentions by his actions and words in Belgrade.

Gizenga, who has failed to assume his post of vice premier in Adoula's government, finally left his Stanleyville stronghold Sunday to come to Leopoldville for the flight to Belgrade with the premier. Adoula immediately said Gizenga's action was proof of national reconciliation.

There was no public announcement, however, that Gizenga had agreed to take an active part in the central government formed by Adoula over a month ago.

The Howard Matthews Family All Home And Accounted For

Members of the Howard Matthews family have settled down in their Driftwood Dr. home, after a busy summer.

During the month of June Mrs. Howard (Grace) Matthews and 15-year-old daughter, Grace, attended sculpting classes at ISOMATA.

The entire family has just returned from a vacation which began at the Chateau Hotel at Lake Louise, and ended in La Mirada, where they visited their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Burgess.

From their base at the Chateau, they took side trips to all the lakes, and then traveled on to Banff, where they rode the ski lift and observed 20 glaciers.

In Columbia, they saw the Ice Fields and rode snowmobile over the glaciers. They visited Vancouver and Victoria, from where they took the two and one-half hour ferry boat ride to the San Juan Islands.

At Roche Harbor, they stayed at the Horo Harbor Hotel, when they weren't exchanging desert

Officers Are Elected By Auxiliary

Officers were elected and chairmen named, when the Women's Auxiliary of the Desert Hot Springs Volunteer Firemen's Association met at the home of Mrs. Frank Kibbey Jr.

New officers and chairmen are: Mrs. James Haidet, president; Mrs. John Santucci, vice president; Mrs. Jack Jennings, secretary; Mrs. Ruth Watkins, treasurer; Mrs. Dennis Thorson, publicity chairman; Mrs. Kibbey Jr. and Mrs. Henry Spahn, telephone committee chairmen; and Mrs. Cliff Arnold, courtesy committee chairman.

Retiring president Mrs. Dan Holt led a discussion relating to fund raising projects. The group decided to conduct the sale of a doll, dressed in hand-sewn clothing, and a hand-made afghan.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Henry Skuse, co-hostess.

Is Doing My Laundry

When I'm in a RUSH I use AUTOMATIC'S 25 pound washers in the Self Service Department and relax watching TV.

You'd be amazed at how much more I can get done since I began taking my laundry to the Automatic. The cost is very small and well worth it! I'm delighted with their excellent work.

"I CAN'T UNDERSTAND WHY MR. SMITH WON'T CALL CHRYSLER AIRTEMP"

We really can't understand Mr. Smith either. The only conclusion we can draw is that he doesn't know about Climate Control by Chrysler. For only pennies a day the entire office can enjoy the invigorating freshness of air conditioning. Climate by Chrysler keeps your building comfortable all summer long, and throughout the rest of the year too. An exclusive electrostatic filter purifies the air you breathe, traps dust and dirt, destroys airborne bacteria, eliminates fumes and odors. You can have Chrysler air conditioning now and for so much less than you might think. Air conditioning specialists will help you plan the most economical, efficient unit for your new or present offices. Chrysler Airtemp manufactures a complete line of quality-engineered climate control systems. By complete systems we mean systems for every type of requirement, whether it's residential, commercial, or industrial.

NEW YORK (UPI) — General opinion in financial circles is that the Dow-Jones industrial average will reach the 750 area before the present move is over, according to Goodbody & Co.

Goodbody does not expect an imminent decline from the present level — but says that investors would do well to confine their purchases to those stocks having a favorable outlook and also performing well marketwise.

Gersen of Wall Street says the underlying tone of the market is still good, and the first sign of a settlement, either in Berlin or Detroit, is likely to touch off a substantial rise in stock prices.

Walter Gutman of Stearns & Co. doesn't think that a disillusioning settlement of Berlin, if it occurs, will have a lasting adverse effect on the market.

THE DESERT SUN

Where Do You Stand, Sir?

How concerned were you when you read that the Russians were going to resume testing atomic bombs—with the power of 100 million tons of TNT—

This newspaper has reported there was consternation among the Russian populace.

This newspaper has reported the concern voiced by the leaders of numerous nations—those of direct and indirect Communist leanings, those of the so-called neutralist nations and those of the "Western World."

But what happened here at home?

The word we get is that in Palm Springs barbershops, where all questions of REAL importance are quickly answered, nothing much was said.

The word we get is that just about the same reaction was readily apparent in Palm Springs beauty salons.

It has been several days now since the Russian announcement was made—and a bomb set off—but there isn't much talk.

Are we taking an ostrich attitude about what is going on?

Are we foolish enough to think that if we ignore this problem, it will solve itself?

Or did we deceive ourselves at the polling places a few months back?

These are days for thoughtful and carefully considered action.

It could be that a concerned and thinking electorate might help to guide our elected leaders.

Now is the time to write your congressman, nab your councilman or buttonhole your mayor.

Other Editors

(Wall Street Journal)

It's getting hard to believe that the Administration needs all the additional money being proposed or discussed, almost from day to day, as a result of successive reviews of the nation's defenses. The suspicion grows that military policy, once again, is being used to stir up a crisis psychology.

The suspicion is not ours alone; a number of knowledgeable members of Congress are saying as much. For in the scant five months of its tenure, the Administration has made two reviews of the defense budget which have increased this fiscal year's appropriations requests by more than $2 billion, to some $44 billion; now a third review is under way and there is speculation that still another $1 billion to $2 billion may be asked. Certainly Khrushchev is promoting a potential crisis over Berlin, and certainly the United States cannot ignore his announcement of a new Soviet military build-up. But it is important to remember, as Secretary of State Rusk recalled the other day, that our times are cursed with a continuing, underlying crisis caused by the Reds' refusal to join the community of peaceable men. Berlin, Laos, whatever it may be at any given moment—these are the eruptions of the underlying crisis.

When Khrushchev in 1958 made the very same threat to Berlin that he is making today, and imposed a six-months' ultimatum, there was no panic in Washington, no special military build-up, no scurrying around for dramatic and ominous-sounding ideas.

Nor did the United States start revamping its military policy with every Moscow announcement about what the Soviets were purportedly doing to their military establishment. For one of the corollaries of the long-pull military policy was that it be based on our own needs for defense, deterrence and, if necessary, retaliation—not on how many soldiers or missiles the Soviets said they had at any given time for their own different needs.

Well, perhaps so much has changed that it is now necessary for Americans to be whipped up into a new crisis psychology. But even if military changes are required, and more money needed for some military purposes, that in itself would not justify all these added billions. Some of the Senators are saying that the military's greatest need is not more men and money but less waste and more efficiency in the use of the men and money it has. For just one example, a staggering 40 per cent of Army troops are listed as non-combat. A panicky increase in military spending could merely increase military inefficiency.

And if, despite all that, it can still be argued that more billions must be added to the military budget in the interests of our survival, then surely the money must come from cutting back on the sprawling spending on domestic programs. Against military needs, handouts to vested political interests should rate no priority at all.

We say that not only out of concern for the future of the dollar, but also in terms of the "image" the United States is creating in Communist eyes. The United States should want to impress Khrushchev not only with firmness in the cold war but also as a nation which knows exactly what it is doing and why in all its activities.

Any Chance You Might---

Dear Abby...

... by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: I met a certain boy at a party about three weeks ago, and we liked each other right away. He called me up and asked me if I would like to play tennis with him. I had to turn him down because I don't know how to play tennis, but I didn't tell him that was the reason. I pretended I had already made plans to do something else. I would like to see him again, but what shall I do if he calls and asks me to play tennis again?

DEAR IRISH: Accept—then ask him to teach you. You might net yourself a boy friend. It's an old racket.

DEAR ABBY: This is a request for help. My sister-in-law reads your column daily, and maybe she will take the hint and please leave me alone.

She comes to my place, and holds me up on my work. She sees that I am busy, but she just follows me around and nags while I try to get my work done. She gabs about people I don't know, and runs down the people I like. Have you any hints on how I can keep her away?

DEAR DESPERATE: Yes. Tell her you can't enjoy her company when you are working, so please telephone before she comes over. And when she telephones, tell her you are busy.

DEAR ABBY: I have seen so many brides get duplicate gifts for shower and wedding gifts. They can't possibly use three toasters and four coffee-makers so, of course, they have to go to all that trouble of taking them back for an exchange. I think the best gift for a bride is money. That way she can put it to good use for something she hasn't got. Don't you think it would be all right to add at the bottom of a wedding invitation, "No gift, please. Money preferred."?

TO BE WED
DEAR TO BE WED: No dear. Nothing goes on the wedding invitation but the postage stamp.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and include a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Abby answers ALL mail.

This Side of The Sun

By R. F. 'Phat' Graettinger

It's Labor Day and this is when
The tempo here picks up again.

Although summer officially will not fade out of the picture until a late hour September 22, to all intents and purposes, it comes to an end in Palm Springs today—Labor Day.

THOSE WHO LEFT Palm Springs in June to become gainfully employed in similar jobs at summer resorts, are streaming back to town. Families are coming back to start the little dears in school next week.

Although in recent years Palm Springs has become an all-year spot, some places did close for the hot months and they, too, are getting ready now for what looks like one of the biggest fall, winter and spring periods in the city's history—always providing nobody rocks the world boat.

WITH DESERT COMMUNITIES growing so rapidly, those who left in June are going to be amazed at the changes and returning old-timers may have to ask their way around. Just like I did 19 years ago this week when I first started clobbering a typewriter for The Desert Sun. I came to stay eight months, until the next May, and I'm still here.

That's what Palm Springs and the desert does to you.

THE COUNT won't be in until tomorrow so I can't comment on the traffic toll for the three-day weekend. But with all of the steps taken and the repeated warnings, it may be smaller.

I think that was a good suggestion of the trucking industry that all truck drivers leave their headlights on when operating between 4 p.m. and 8 a.m. until Tuesday. They urged passenger cars to do the same. The lights served as a reminder to all to drive safely.

IT MIGHT BE a good idea if that plan were followed every day not just on a holiday weekend. It would serve as a perpetual reminder and also be a safety measure itself in murky weather.

Railroad locomotives always burn their headlights, night or day. That light makes them easier to see from a greater distance. I've noticed that some interurban buses travel with lights on, too.

SPEAKING OF SAFETY, I came across an article the other day while doing some light reading, which might be of interest here where we claim more swimming pools per capita than any other place.

It is a new pool alarm using a specially designed mercury switch, powered by dry storage batteries. It is so sensitive that even a stone disturbing the water's surface, actuates the alarm which can be connected either inside or outside of the house. If anyone, especially a child, accidentally falls into the pool, the alarm sounds.

BACK TO TRAFFIC again, you'd better start watching those yellow cross walks painted at crossings near schools. They'll be in full blast operation again within a few days. The kids will be flocking back to class rooms Sept. 13 and, according to Police Chief A. G. Kettmann, those who ignore these cross walks or speed past schools or school buses, will accumulate traffic citations.

He's determined to keep up the excellent safety record of the city.

West Stronger Than Soviets in Germany

By HOLMES ALEXANDER
WASHINGTON—Flying home in the Vice President's plane from Berlin, your reporter had a chance to raise this question with General Lucius Clay and Ambassador Charles Bohlen:

"Two weeks after the Vice President's dramatic visit to Berlin, what will be the results of it?" All comments were for background only, but if we put them now into some sort of giant calculator with the developments of the past fortnight, and what we know of Soviet strategy, some conclusions suggest themselves.

Berliners Ready to Rise
First, it is evident that here is a situation where the West could fight a war with more advantage than anywhere on earth, with the exception of Cuba. It is not that NATO is very strong, although it ought to be a match for the 20 Soviet Divisions which Khrushchev has committed to East Germany. Our advantage exists because the Soviet position is so weak. On relative strengths, the West would stand an excellent chance to revolutionize the Communist borderland and bring at least some of the satellite millions over to our side.

This is primarily true because, as the Johnson visit proved, the Berliners, East and West, are ready to rise against Communism. It is easy to say that such a revolt would be brutally suppressed, but with what? The East German troops would certainly not have their heart in slaughtering their own countrymen. It is a reasonable military risk to assume that many of the East German troops would desert to the West, and that the demoralization of the rest would throw Khrushchev for a long loss.

West Berlin has no soldiers of its own, but the police force is huge—about one cop to less than 200 of the 2.2 million civilians. If fighting broke out, the police would be a powerful spearhead in a huge street fight for possession of the entire city. The assault troops would be the German mobs, East and West, against which regular troops always have rough going.

Millions Deserted
Then, there is some reason to question the stability of Russian troops against European civilians. Something like four million Russians deserted in World War II. In Hungary, in 1956, the Russian soldiers did not like the murdering of people fighting in their own streets against tyranny. The Communist doctrine of universality, and the deep Russian love of homeland, both militate against that sort of thing. Mongolian troops had to be brought to Hungary and were heard to ask, "Where is now Suez Canal?" They thought they were in Egypt.

There are numerous signs that Khrushchev does not plan to fight over Berlin against all these and other disadvantages. Speaking last January 6th to a meeting of party organizations in the Higher Party School, Communist Party of the Soviet Union, Khrushchev gave a lengthy, carefully prepared and widely distributed address which has been compared with Hitler's "Mein Kampf" as a statement of world-conquering strategy.

Soviets Build and Hide
Dr. Stefan Possony, professor of international politics, Graduate School, Georgetown University, analyzed this speech for a Congressional committee in June and pointed out Khrushchev's stated timetable. The period of the 1960's is specifically marked for "active fronts" in Asia, Africa and Latin America.

The Soviet plan is to foment and assist in wars of "liberation" on these continents, and in the seizure and control of all the critical materials and manpower on these continents. Meanwhile, the Soviets will continue to build nuclear might, while chiding us about "disarmament." The Khrushchev plan, as stated by him for the instruction of Communist leaders around the world, does not include a European war at this time. There could hardly be a better reason why we should force a show down in Berlin. The President has made a brave and wise beginning by his serious build-up of American armed forces. The Vice President's visit showed Western strength and Communist weakness in Berlin. To trigger a limited war, might well blaze into a world holocaust is the most awesome of thoughts. But unless we follow up our psychological and military advantages in Berlin, we will surely have to fight at terrible disadvantages on some front of the enemy's choice. When John F. Kennedy sought the Presidency, he knew he was seeking the chance to make such dreadful decisions as these.

Television Competition Seen on War in Berlin

By BOB CONSIDINE

BERLIN—If there is ever a war over Berlin, a conventional war that does not immediately blast everybody to bits, it will be the first military conflict in history on live television. And with ratings involved, too. West and East Berlin television stations battle as enthusiastically for audiences as NBC and CBS once fought with Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan.

Both sides of this divided city are superbly equipped electronically. The two channels—number five for the Communists and number seven for the West Berliners—constantly vie for the viewer's attention. The American visitor who is bored by the channel of freedom finds himself uneasily switching to the channel of infamy.

We drew our blinds at the Emmerich Hilton today during an Emil Jannings revival on the early early show, searched all closets and under beds, looked furtively from side to side, then turned on channel five. We expected that the man in the raincoat and porkpie hat from the C.I.A. would knock on the door immediately. He didn't.

Channel five was having a station break. Then some East German bum came on and sang "Swanee River," in English. He followed it with "Old Man River." Very good, too. Then he put a rap on Adenauer.

Listened for Laughs
In World War II and in probably every other war in history, except the miserable business in Korea, the enemy tried to reach the ear or eye of the defender or invader or whatever he was, in the hope of reducing him to jelly by means of music he understood, by sweet talk, or by telling him how badly he was being treated at the front while his wife or his girl back home was galavanting around with some oily-haired black marketeer.

In the big war we had all this and more from Gertie from Bizerte, Axis Sally, Tokyo Rose, and some bum named Lord Haw Haw. Our guys listened to the babes, mostly to hear the good records they played. And for laughs.

One of the big laughs of the otherwise grim Pacific war was the broadcast Tokyo Rose made the morning after the tough night a detachment of sea-bees hacked a secret landing field in the jungle on some forlorn island on the road to the Japanese mainland. As they threw themselves on their blankets at dawn, completely poodled, Sally came on the air and cooed:

"Don't look now, boys, but your strin is showing."
Capt. Jack Maloney of Port Jervis, N.Y., a Korean combat veteran who runs Berlin's fine Armed Forces Network radio outlet, let us hear today a sample of what the East German radio is beaming here since Walter Ulbricht became warden of a city prison with 1,000 inmates Aug. 13.

"Don't Fence Me In"
The voice was soft, southern and as American as hominy grits. It came on OPS—Berlin, the East Berlin radio, after a somewhat surprising theme song "Don't Fence Me In." It said, "This is the real voice of information and education," paraphrasing justly proud the motto of AFN. It introduced a corn-pone type named "Mr. Stringbean" who told a disgusting barnyard story that would bring about the cancellation of any American station's license. He spoke the news, too, beamed—he said—"To you unlucky guys patrolling the border." It sympathized with them because "you're caught in the walled up city of West Berlin."

The only walled up city is, of course, East Berlin.

OPS—Berlin has made special broadcasts to West Berlin husbands, too, stating that "Texas Rangers" among the new American troops have boasted they will seduce all young West Berlin wives and frauleins. It further charged, the other night, that the West Berlin government had hired stripteasers from local honky-tonks to stand near the wall, peel, and entice otherwise noble East Berliners to attempt to vault over. The West Berlin radio and TV blasts back, with more decorum to be sure, but just as vigorously.

And so it goes, a hot war within a cold war. UN should appoint Phil Silvers as an intermediary.

A Difference

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (UPI)—Maxter Gunney Sgt. Alan A. Sydow of the Marines, home on leave after three years duty in Japan, said he enjoyed his stay in the fat eastern nation much better than when he was there before.

The first time he was a prisoner of war 45 months.

Remember When...

SEPTEMBER 4, 1951

Chief of Police August G. Kettmann, in an annual statement, issued a warning to all motorists to drive with caution during the Labor Day weekend. "Every traffic regulation on the city's books—and the state's too—will be strictly enforced," said the chief.

SEPTEMBER 4, 1941

Palm Springs city councilmen said that Palm Canyon Drive was turning into gas station row. Councilman Bacon Clifton said that something "must be done about it." Councilman Ray Sorum said: "I am in favor of taking any action possible to stop the construction of more service stations on Palm Canyon Drive, from Ramon Road, north."

Record holiday crowds jammed Palm Springs over the Labor Day weekend. The Desert Sun reported that every hotel and apartment in town was occupied.

SEPTEMBER 4, 1931

Congressman and Mrs. John Phillips were among the motorists who encountered a cloudburst near Idyllwild this week. They had the road washed out in front of them as flash floods inundated the area. They could, however, turn around and went back to Idyllwild and then on to Banning.

Dick Lots Leads Brother in State Fair Golf Tourney

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Dick Lots, San Lorenzo, headed into the final 18 holes of the 37th annual State Fair Golf Tournament today three strokes ahead of his nearest competitor, his brother John.

Dick was the first-day leader with a two under par 70 shot during high winds which hampered other players. But he went to par at Haggan Oaks golf course while John shot a 70. Dick's 36-hole total was 142 while John had a 145. Long hitting George Archer, San Francisco, was third with 147 after Sunday's 73. In fourth spot was local favorite Frank Toronto with a 149, while Morgan Barofski, San Francisco, and Dave Bannan were tied for fifth at 151.

Dodgers Upset Giants 5-4 in NL Surge Race

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The San Francisco Giants, who almost caught the Los Angeles Dodgers in Sunday's hair-raising matinee, get another chance tonight when the two rivals battle in the second chapter of their week of decision.

Things were looking up for the Dodgers on the basis of Sunday's 5-4 win before 30,108 in the sun-roasted Coliseum. They now trail the Cincinnati Reds by 2½ games and Los Angeles pilot Walt Alston is hoping "we can do it the hard way" as they did in capturing 1956 and 1959 pennants.

"We have a way of doing it the hard way," said Alston, pointing out the Dodgers were further behind two years ago at this time and still won.

But the Giants have everything to say about Dodger chances, with six successive games in as many days. Alvin Dark's slugging crew, battling a slump right now, are in a win-or-lose situation at the present, trailing Cincinnati by 7½ games.

Don vs. Juan

In their bid to break out of fourth place, the Giants tonight send Juan Marichal, 13-9 and a Dodger nemesis, to the mound against Don Drysdale, 10-9.

A ninth-inning rally failed the Giants Sunday.

In that contest, the Dodgers scored four runs in the first inning with two men out to take an apparently safe lead. Tommy Davis' bloop single which plopped between Willie Mays and Joe Pagan and beyond the reach of Harvey Kuenn opened the door for the four tallies off Mike McCormick.

Johnny Podres, given this cushion plus a line drive homer into the stands by Gil Hodges (no. 360 of his career) in the third, seemed to be coasting. But then Orlando Cepeda blooped a two-run homer over the left field screen in the sixth.

Stockers Rev for Darlington '500'

DARLINGTON, S.C. (UPI) — Forty-one of the nation's top stock car drivers compete today for $96,775 in the 12th Southern 500 mile classic at Darlington International Raceway.

Starting time for the nation's oldest bigtime stock car race was 11 a.m. (EST) before a sellout crowd of 80,000.

The weather for the Labor Day holiday race was expected to be warm and humid. Track temperatures may reach 100 degrees or higher, providing an acid test for tires, cars and drivers.

Moyer Favored For Saturday Go

NEW YORK (UPI) — Middleweight Denny Moyer is a slight favorite at 6-5 to turn the tables on Obdulio Nunez in their nationally televised return 10-round bout at Portland, Ore., Saturday night.

In their previous TV fight at Madison Square Garden, June 17, Nunez of Puerto Rico won a majority decision over Moyer of Portland. The rounds voting favored Obdulio: 54-1, 54-1, with one score sheet even—5-5 on rounds and 5-5 on points.
